

Could you be the next Britain's Got Talent winner?

We have been contacted by the organisers of Britain's Got Talent and they are looking for new entries:

Hi,

My name's Liz and I work on Britain's Got Talent. We're back for a fourth series and this year we're bigger than ever, We're really keen to get some fantastic roller skaters on the show this year!

To make it easier for acts to apply we are now accepting show-reels. Anyone who's interested simply needs to email me a link to the YouTube / MySpace video they'd like the producers to view in lieu of an audition. The video doesn't need to be professional, just clear enough so that we can see who is auditioning and what they'd do if they got to perform for our three judges.

If the dancers were then successful, they would need to be able to get to one of our audition theatres in Jan / Feb 2010. After that it's only the Live Finals and they're not until the first week of June - so the show really doesn't take up too much time from anyone's busy schedule.
